

PRE-PLAYOFF CONFERENCE CALL: This meeting was called between the Central Division and the larger divisions. The Western and New England Divisions participated, Philadelphia did not. Issues such as flight arrival times, transportation, hotels and banquet tickets were discussed. Again it was agreed that clubs would be liable through their Division for 10 banquet tickets.

1995 PLAYOFFS: The playoffs saw a total of 28 teams competing in 6 competitions over 3 days. A total of 24 games were played, 6 on the Friday, 12 on the Saturday, and 6 on the Sunday. To date 1995 was the biggest playoff. As a consequence of our ever increasing volume of games at playoff weekends, it is now apparent that host cities must have 2 fields available in order to accommodate the volume of games played over the weekend. While all teams must be commended on reaching the playoffs and congratulations must be given to those teams winning a special mention must be made of the minor teams, on the level of skills shown and their competitiveness. Let hope that these teams from Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco are joined next year by teams from other Divisions and cities. Again to all those involved in the various minor programs a hearty thanks from the N.A.C.B. for your efforts. The Central Division and Gaelic Park must also be thanked and commended on the job they did during the playoffs. A special word of thanks must also be given to the referees, umpires and linemen for the professionalism they showed.
